TITLE—1

THE TUCSON MAIL

This year's yearbook—The Anos de Oro.

Yearbooks have been a part of school life ever since printing presses were invented. A yearbook is supposed to have some of the better moments, and always a couple of the worst moments of a school year. This is what the yearbook staff at Canyon del Oro tried its hardest to do.

Talk about dedication to a publication, we know all about that! The staff has stayed until almost midnight on several occasions throughout the year putting together your yearbook. We, the Yearbook Staff, hope that this year at Canyon del Oro High has been one of the most memorable ever. We know that this yearbook is a first! We hope you enjoy it.

As much as things change, there are always those things that stay the same. No one invented a magic pill to make the ingestion of physics, calculus and Mr. Rowe's government any easier, so it was quite normal to see haggard, bleary-eyed seniors staring vacantly into space. And no enterprising student has yet developed a way to shorten the lunch lines (other than shouting "fire", that is), and some freshmen have to find out that CDO actually serves food for lunch! Mr. Kemmeries, our knowledgeable principal, assured us that it is still possible and considered the "norm" to graduate in four years, though several students seemed to be determined to put that question to the test. What's New and What's Interesting are exciting, but the things we remember were the things that never seemed to change, plus the satisfaction of knowing we made it. That was normal, too.

WHAT'S USUAL?

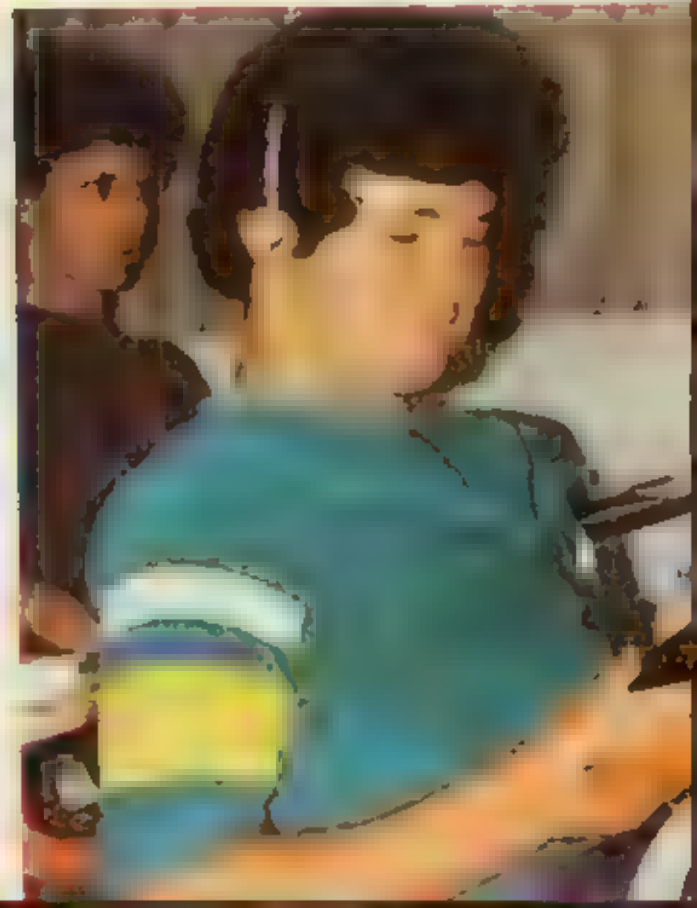

Newness—it will always be with us. Some of the newer things around were two new malls that opened during the year of 1982. The Breakers, a large pool equipped with a wave-making machine, had also opened during the year of 1982. "New" was a word that was also used around the CDO campus, especially with the building projects. Coke machines were added to the CDO campus for the first time. These machines were open to students after lunch only. Student Government used the funds as they saw fit to benefit the student body. We had many bands during lunch and a variety of D.J.s providing music. New teachers were added to the campus. Mr. Dan Beng, who was a former CDO graduate, came back to haunt us teaching math. Mr. McHale, took the place of Mrs. Watters in the English department, and Jean Granillo was added to the foreign language department. Mrs. Peggy Thomas was added to the home economics department.

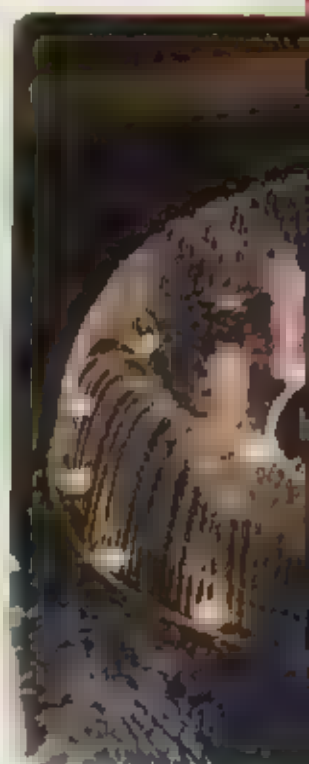

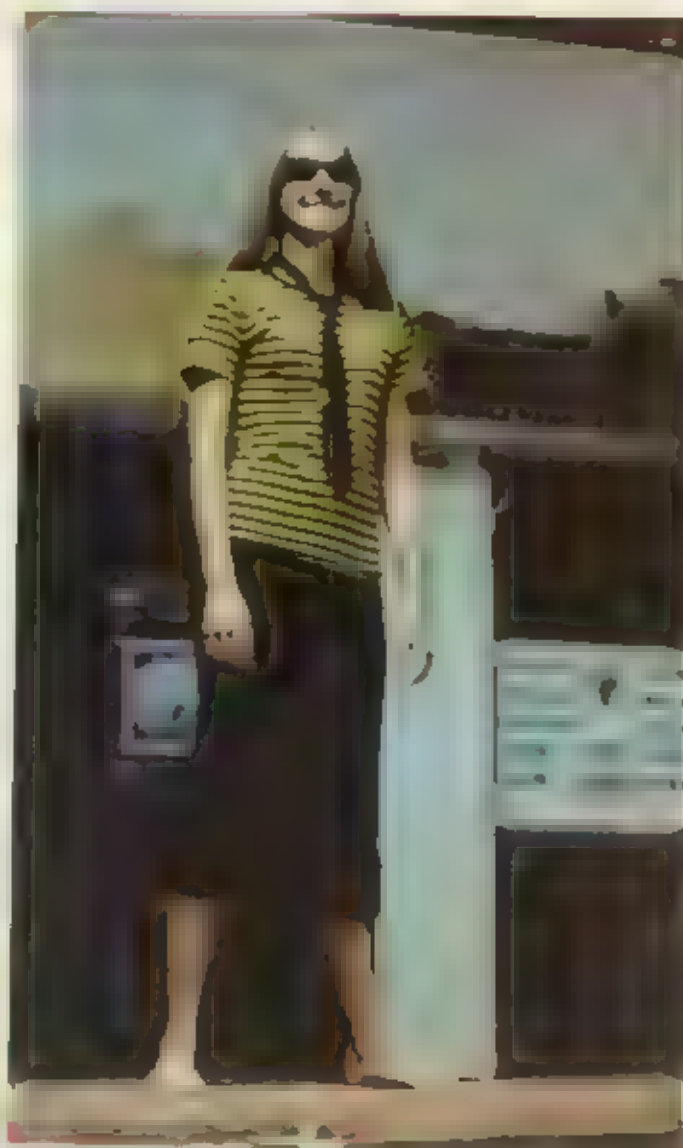

WHAT'S NEW?

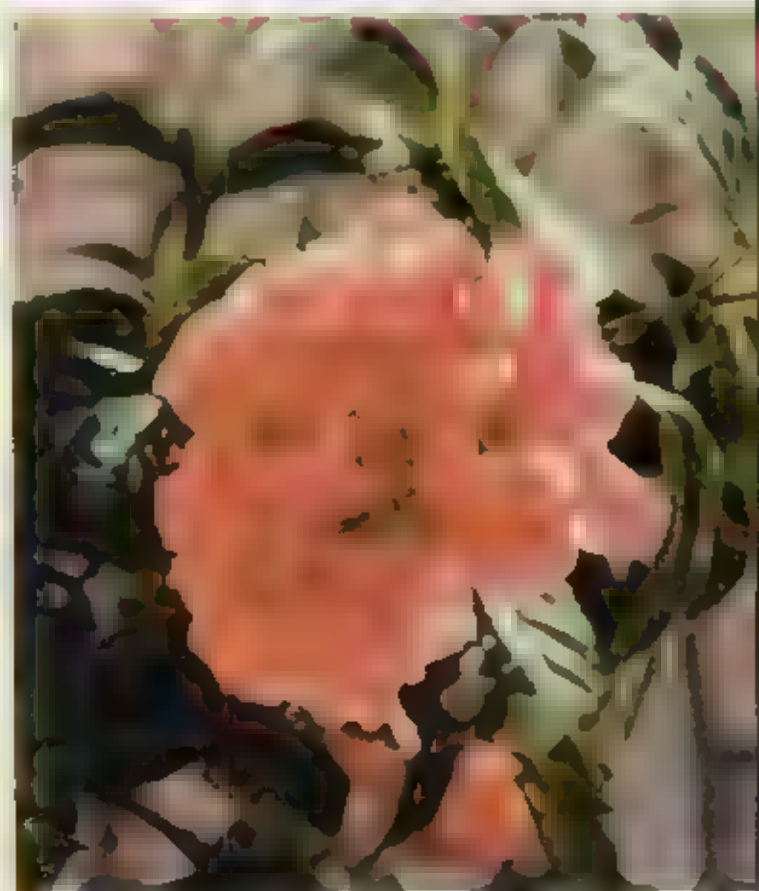

A football player in action, silhouetted against the bright lights of the field; a perfect spring blossom; the glistening perfection and confusion of a waterfall; contestants in action, trying their best to win over the approval of the judges; a beautiful sunset on a deserted school campus; neat, dependable, fun-loving students (which CDO has in abundance), and the unique setting of the campus were all outstanding features at Canyon del Oro. Yes, our school was very outstanding, in sports, academics, arts and especially students. With all the students here, no two were ever alike. Each person had his or her own individuality, each and every one outstanding in his own way. Everyone on the faculty and staff was unique. Each had his own way of teaching and instructing his students, and each was liked, or disliked, by different students. One thing was for sure, no one could have ever called Canyon del Oro dull, normal, or just another school.

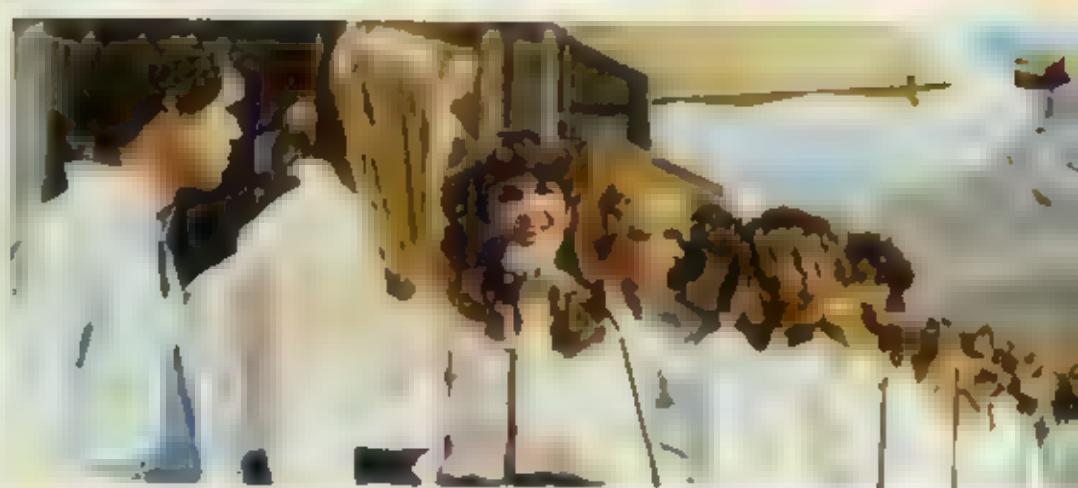

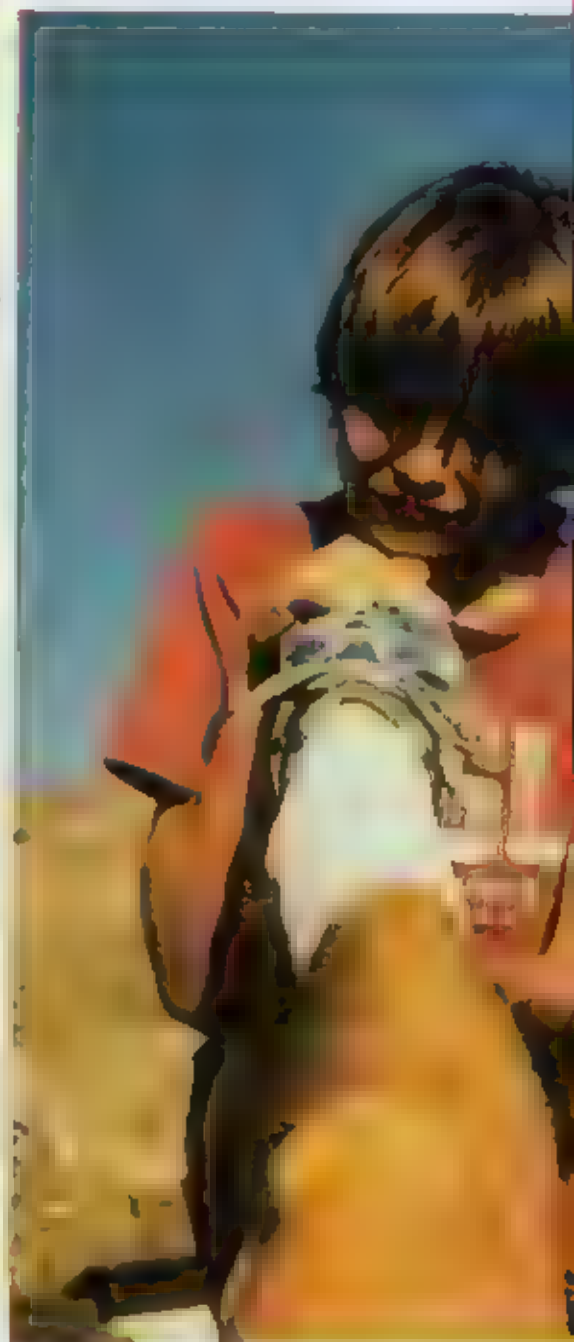

WHAT'S OUTSTANDING?

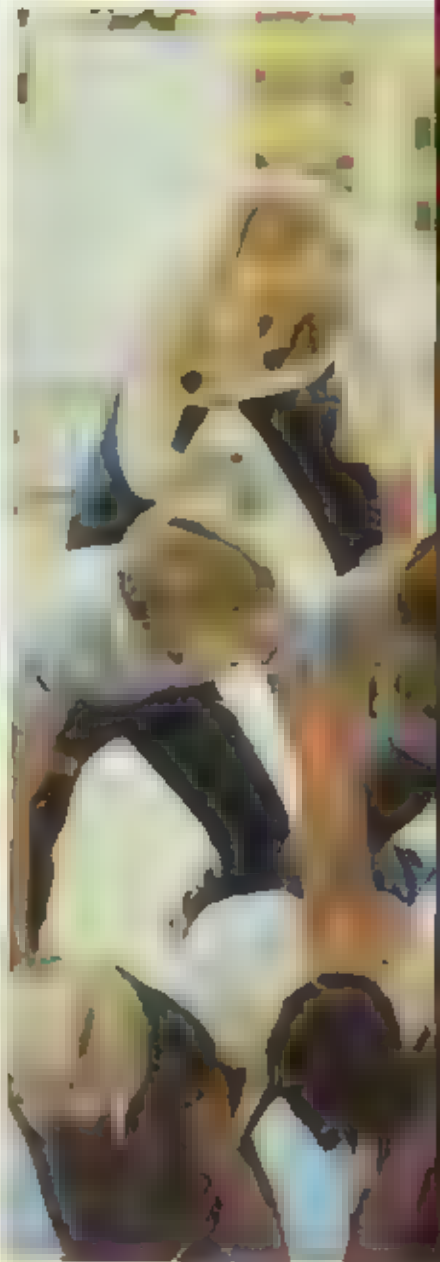

WHAT'S HAPPENING

Many activities were happening around the CDO campus during our high school years. Any sport that you could have imagined was available to you and the rest of the school. A variety of clubs were also found on the CDO campus. Some of the more active clubs were in the Business Department. One of the main ones was the DECA Club for students that were in the Marketing classes. Other clubs (but maybe not so active), were the Key Club, FBLA Club, COE, Sign Language Club, Yearbook "Club", the Clay Club, and the list goes on. If you were bored during your four years at CDO, it was your own fault. All that you had to do was get involved, which most of us did in one way or another. Canyon del Oro had one of the finest lists of clubs, activities, organizations, and sports in the Tucson area.

WHAT'S TO DO?

The Canyon del Oro campus rocked with many activities throughout the year. During school, many activities were planned for the enjoyment of the students. Pep assemblies and spirit contests were held to show which of the classes had the most spirit. There were also a number of fun-in-the-sun contests, including the airbends and the watermelon eating contests which were held in the fall. How could CDO campus rock without "Music?" . . . Student Government took care of that problem. They sponsored many local D.J.s to come and play popular music for students during lunch hour. "Students who were able to drive often suckered the underclassmen into giving them money for a ride to the nearest fast food place," said Eric Martineau. After school, many students had sports practice, while those who didn't got the party started for the night ahead. CDO rocked Tucson!

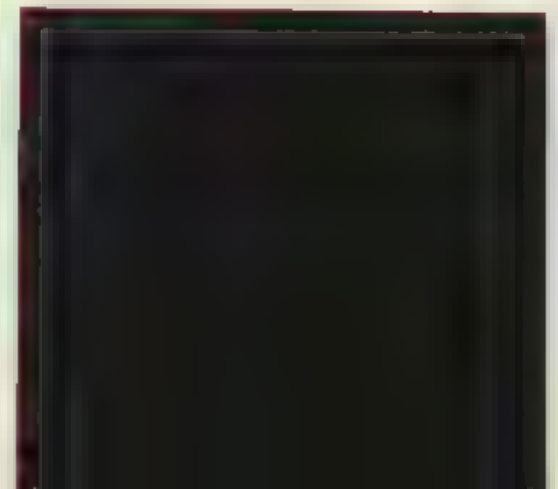

WHAT'S AROUND

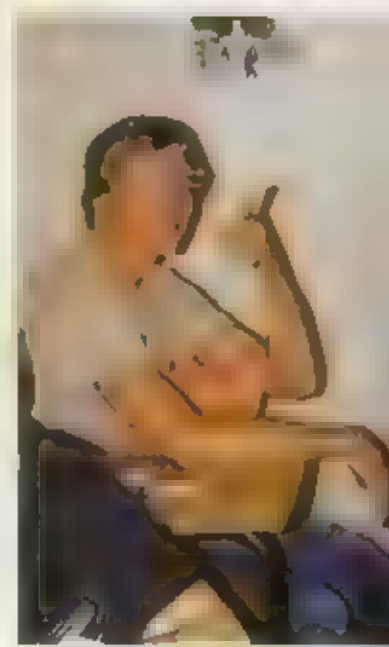

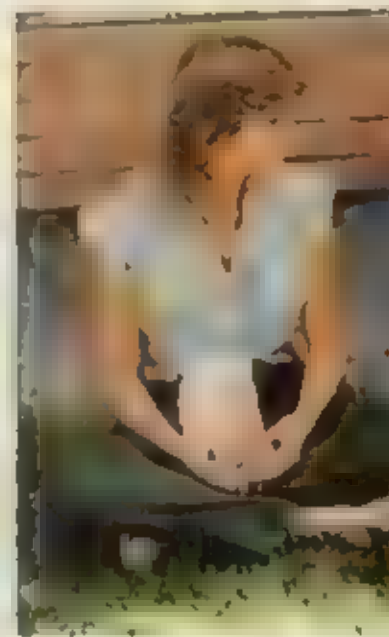

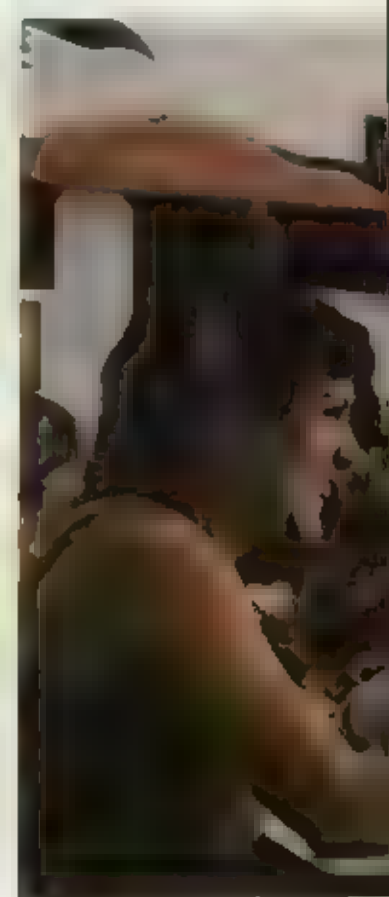

Canyon del Oro High School had many changes and additions to the campus during the 1982-1983 school year. One of the more noticeable additions to the campus was the Administration Building. An addition was placed on the north end of the East Administration. The West Administration was moved during the year to the East Administration where the Counseling Offices were. The counselors were moved to the 100 wing where they occupied the northeast end of that wing. Along with other additions, the English Department planned a new wing to be located where Dorado Lake was. The "Language Arts" building was to be the very most modern and was to carry all of the up-to-date learning facilities. Also, during the year, plans were drawn up to build a new Bookstore, and place an addition on to the Library. All-in-all the school took on a new look . . . a major one!

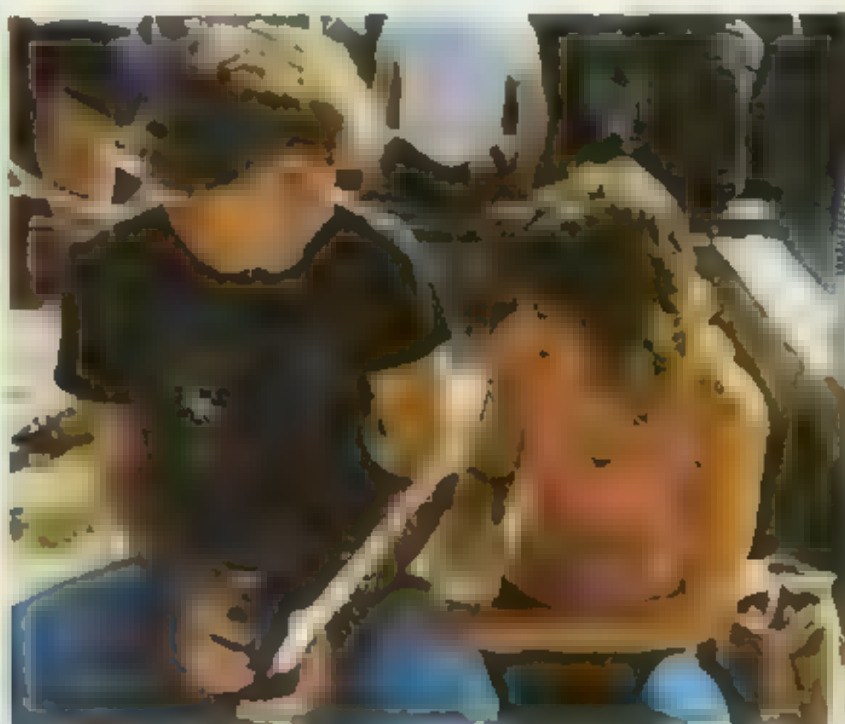

WHAT'S UNUSUAL

The campus had a new look this past year as construction began on a new addition for the administration building. CDO's skyline saw a lot of changes with new buildings all around the area, but what was really different was the change in attitude towards high school. The class of '83 set the "tone", and, as most would agree, the seniors were wild, crazy, innovative and fun! Spirit was higher than ever, and good fellowship had felt its way down the ladder to the freshmen class. Great strides were made this past year in getting students to get it together to be better as individuals and as a class. Every year is different as each class brings something all its own to CDO, making each year better than before. That was the pride of CDO. We were the best, and we were different.

Coaches: Avila Davis, Hubert Derksen, Mark Bailey, Smith, Crews, Scott Ferzan, Hodge and Lanny Williams.

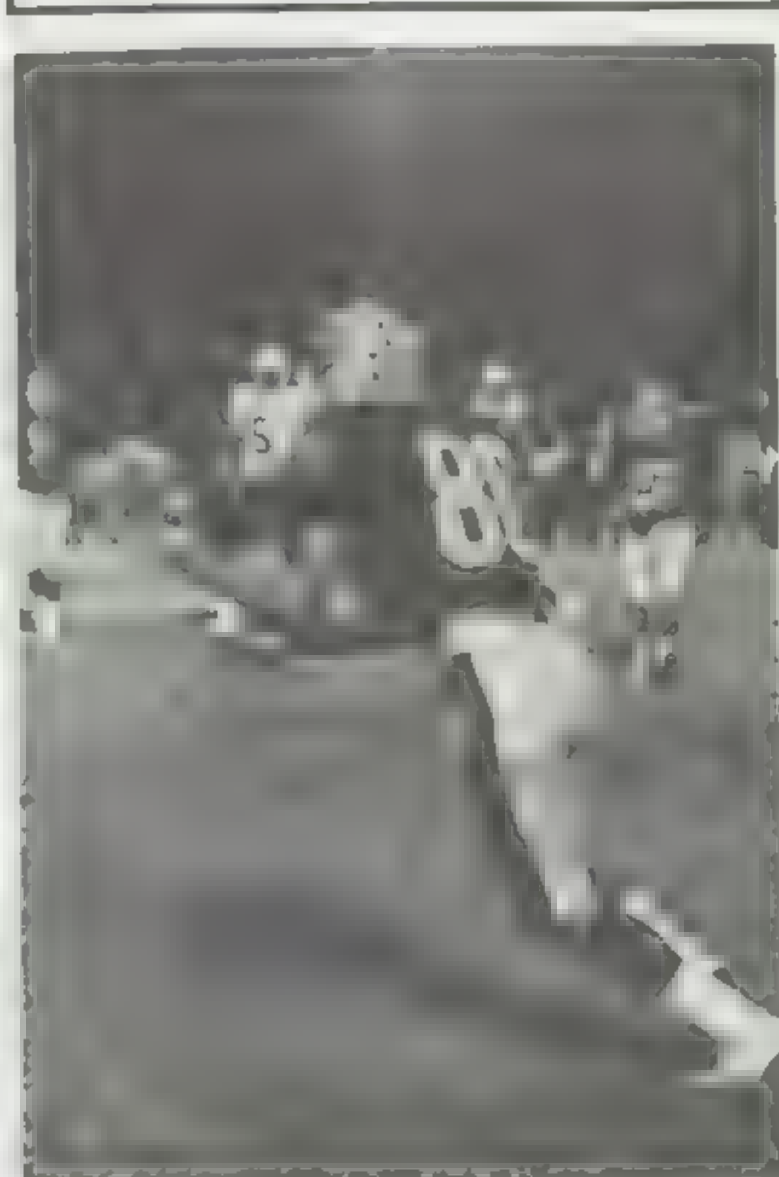

Although the '82-'83 football season was tough, our Dorados came through with a definite feeling of pride and dignity. The team showed much enthusiasm and spirit even under pressure throughout the season. "We were a team all the way," commented senior Sean Furrer. "We never gave up." Teamwork played a big part in this past season. This was displayed during the Catalina game; we held them on the one yard line for four downs. Many good memories have been left behind after a long and difficult season. We will all remember sitting through the chilling winds and rains to cheer the Dorados to victory. Football has always been a tradition here at Canyon Del Oro and we will always be proud of the 1982-'83 varsity football team for their spirit, pride and determination.

WE'RE NO ORDINARY FOOTBALL TEAM!

A YEAR FOR BUILDING CONFIDENCE

- 1 Number 22 dashes around the opponent's defense for CDO.
- 2 CDO's tough defense pounds their opponents further back for a loss.
- 3 A tough play is made easy as a linebacker nails the runningback for a loss.
- 4 A goal line stand proves successful for CDE as their opponents try to score a touchdown.
- 5 This punter is lucky to get his punt off after a full run from CDO's defense line.
- 6 CDO's defense sees an opportunity to sack the quarterback for a safety.
- 7 Number 43 for CDO breaks loose to score a point.

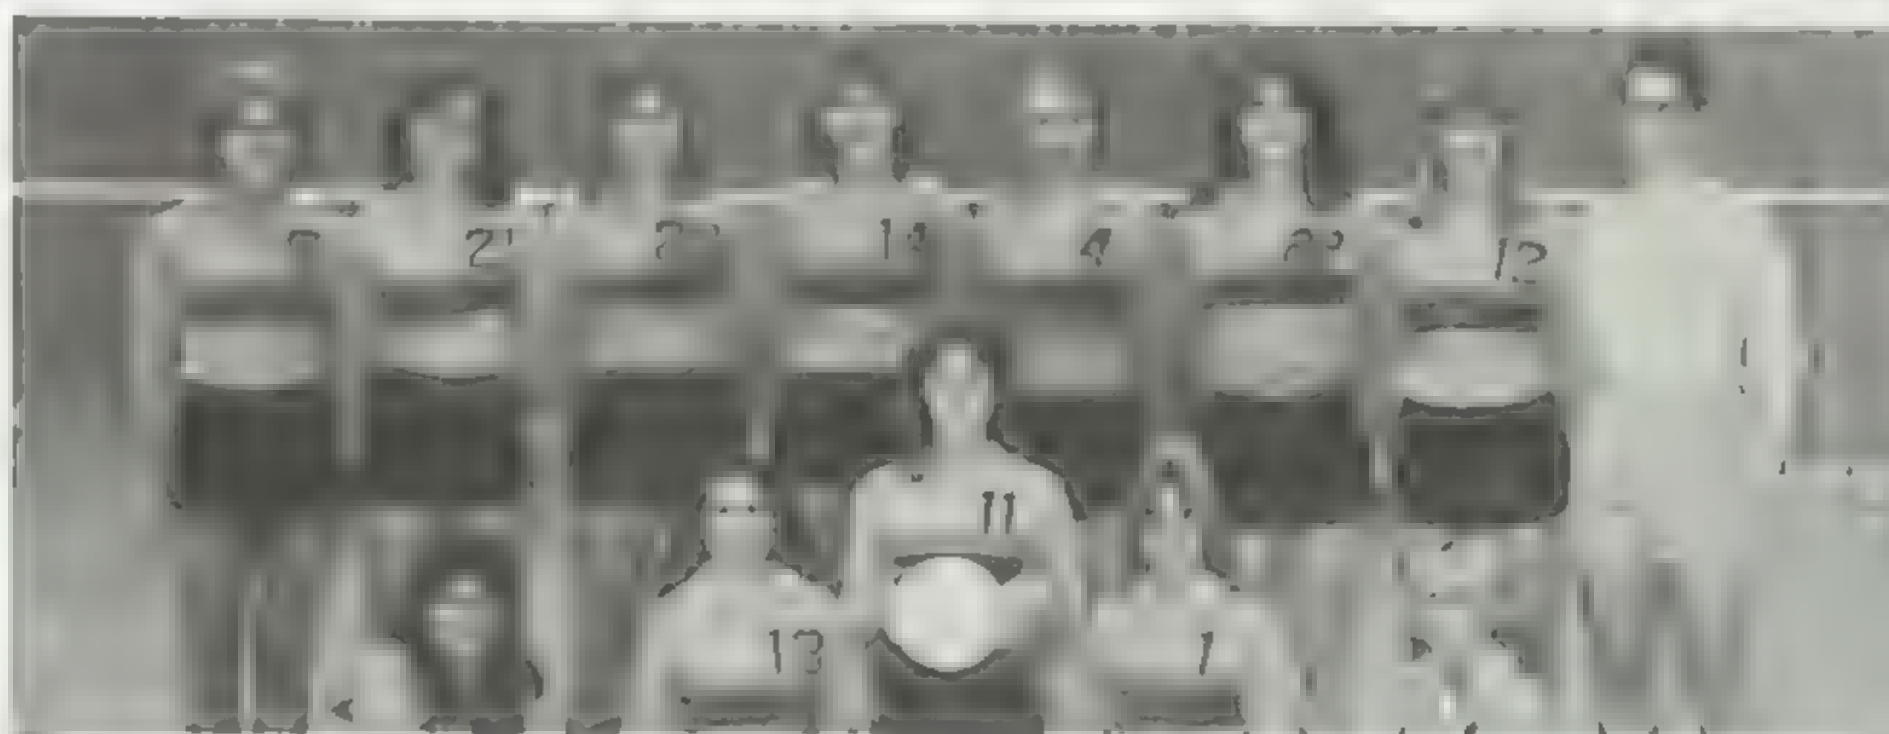

The Junior Varsity and freshman football teams did very well in the 1982-1983 school year. The Junior Varsity team had a record of 4 wins, 4 losses and 1 tie. The Freshman team had a record of 6 wins and 2 losses. Coach Gary Minor of the Junior Varsity team felt that the team had very good potential for being a winning Varsity team. Coach Pat Bailey felt that the Freshman team also had a good chance of being a victorious team in future years if they stuck together. All of the team members felt that a very big part of their success was due to great coaching. The coaches helped the boys to learn how to accept loss, not only on the field but in life as well. One team member stated, "The coaches were great, they really helped us a lot." Injuries to key players, like to Junior Varsity quarterback Eric Boyd, hampered the team, but they were able to bounce back and have a good season. Freshman Garrett Abeyta stated, "The Freshman team CRANKED!!"

The Varsity Volleyball team had a terrific season. They improved their regular season record considerably from the previous year. They earned eight and a half. They made the playoffs as well. The team also did very well in a high school tournament held at Catalina High school. The team was composed of eight seniors, three juniors, and one terrific sophomore. All the players were dependable and as a result of the team's success, everyone became friends. One player on the Dorados this past year was in teaching. Candy Dyer replaced last year's coach, Joan Ecker. When asked about the team, Mrs. Dyer replied, "We're going to lose a lot of good players to graduation, but I feel that we will still be the ones to beat next year." Overall, the Varsity Volleyball team wound up with a great record, but most important, they found friendships that would live forever. Head coach, Candy Dyer, commented, "You just wait until next year, we are going to be the best, and we'll always be. We're the Dorados. The Golden Ones."

SERVING THE DORADOS

1. The Dorados are on a roll. From the Canyon team, served, passing, positioned and essential to good teamwork as shown here by the volleyball team.
2. A Canyon all-star volleyball player sets up a play.
3. An opponent team member attempts to block.
4. A CDO member professionally takes the ball over the net for the winning point.
5. Senior Danielle Rasmussen serves to opponent's court.
6. A great serve by CDO's J. J. Rasmussen another point for the team.
7. The Canyon all-star volleyball team.

The Canyon Del Oro High School's new JV volleyball coach was Barb Johnson. He explained, "It's been a real great year for me. This is my first year for coaching the volleyball team, and I love it." The JV volleyball team had a 7 win and 5 loss record during the season. All of the players agreed that Mr. Johnson was a super coach, and they learned a lot of valuable things during the season. Syd Scandridge, the new freshman volleyball coach, led her team to a victorious season with a 9 win and 1 loss record. "My girls were extremely talented in all aspects of the game," commented Mr. Scandridge. Junior Michelle Dickerson, who was on the junior varsity team, commented, "The year was one of the best that the team had ever had. We hope that we will be successful in the coming year as the varsity team was in the past." Both of the teams could be seen after school many a day practicing for games and scrimmages. It was a very successful year with the team members and the coaches.

CROSS COUNTRY RACES FOR A WIN

- Coach Jim Felt tries to figure out the score, to tell the swelling team members the results of the race.
- Senior Jason Crawford, on the last stretch of the race, endeavors to keep his pace up.
- Senior Eric Martineau attempts to overtake his opponent in the last 15 yards of the race.
- Ell Dekker is showing perfect form, as she tries to overtake her teammate.
- The Canyon del Oro Cross Country team.
- A CDO team member is diligently working to catch up and pass a Rincon member.
- Eric Martineau knows he can win if he can just pass the one remaining person in his path.

[illegible]

Last season, the C.D.O. Cross Country team had many goals. The first of which was to get all the returning team members to run over the summer. With the help of the "unknown runner," most of the varsity members logged over 700 miles last summer. The second team goal was to have fun. Eric Martineau summed it up best when he said, "I ran anywhere from 10-16 miles each day. Many times I felt it wasn't worth it, but when I came across the finish line first, it made all those hot summer days of training worth it." Coach Peltz was very happy with the turnout last year. 16 freshman went out for the team. When asked about next year's team, he said, "We are going to miss Eric Martineau and Jason Crawford, but the underclassmen look good. The girls team lost Nina Putzer, but the team next year looks pretty awesome."

WE'RE NOT JUST PUTTING AROUND!

- 4 A lot of hard work is put into the game of golf, as John Buttery shows us here.
- 5 During an afternoon practice, golfer John Buttery strives to improve his shot.
- 6 While Todd Marti hits the ball, John Buttery and an unidentified team member watch to get an accurate view of another player.

The 1982-83 golf season proved to be very successful," stated Coach Ruiz. Even though CDO's varsity team didn't win the State Championships, they did achieve one of their main goals: participating in the State Championships. "Every CDO golf team has made it to State," said Coach Ruiz, which he points out is very impressive for any school. The team also placed 3rd in divisionals. Many seniors proved to be very skilled and talented throughout the year. One of them was John Buttery. He successfully won the divisionals and was quoted as saying, "I was really proud to have won divisionals and to place 10th in state." Todd Marti, another hopeful senior, said, "It was really great to have been 2nd man all year long and to have tied 16th at state. All in all this was a good year for golf and for our team."

PINNED IN A FLASH

- 1 Smile Russell. Now pin that man from Catalina. We're counting on you.
- 2 All right, Gary. Concentrate! You can do it if you put your mind to it.
- 3 Chet Hamlin struggles furiously to win this match against Catalina.
- 4 A CDO wrestler has the advantage spot in a breakdown position.
- 5 Come on, Steve! Turn him over and get a pin! You can do it!
- 6 Steve So-Jack gets ready for a takedown in a game against Catalina.
- 7 All right, Russell, just a few more seconds, and it will be a pin!

The Varsity Wrestling team had a fairly good season, however, they would have done better if they had had more participation in the upper weight classes. They did not let their lack of back too much though. They worked hard and did the best they could. All of the coaches had a lot to do with their success. They worked the team hard during practices and gave them a lot of moral support. They helped the team deal with loss and helped them gain good sportsmanship. Wrestling took a lot of physical and mental ability. The team practiced 2-3 hours per day, usually ending with a pep talk from the coaches. The coaches felt that they had a good season and hoped to do just as well, if not better, in the following years. Most of the team had wrestled in previous years, which really helped a lot. Outstanding wrestlers in their weight classes were Rusty Six, Gary Sheber, Steve StJean, and Bernie Sheber. They hoped to have Rusty Six and Gary Sheber place high in divisionals. They also hoped to have Steve StJean and Bernie Sheber place.

Wrestling was not an easy sport. In fact, it probably took the greatest amount of muscular ability of any sport. Wrestlers had to be pretty tough to be winners. Our team was no exception. The junior varsity and freshmen teams had great potential for being a winning team. Their only setback was that they had to forfeit two or three matches every game because of lack of players. It seemed that every time the junior varsity had a full team, their best players had to be moved up to the varsity. The best player was team captain, Dale Holdaway. The most improved player was junior Mike O'Connor. Among the freshmen team, Guy Vetrano and Ron Peck were the best grapplers. Jeff Coleman was the most improved player. All the players felt that all their success was due to the coaches. They were a lot of help. Coach Green felt that the team had very good potential to place in divisionals and hoped to have at least four team members place.

Satisfying season. stated varsity coach Dan Huff, when asked about the overall season. "We proved that we are contenders in the AAA North High Schools League." Many said that Coach Huff had his team picked before the school year even started. If so, they showed that they had their bright spots and also showed great potential. The team was fairly young with 5 seniors, 4 juniors, and 7 sophomores. With the seniors, as usual, being the dominating force, both offensively and defensively. The team had a fairly rough season, playing only nine home games, and having the burden of playing last year's State Champions twice. When asked about outstanding players, Huff said, "Without a doubt, Brian Nies, a senior, was one of the better players in the city, doing more than his share for us this year. It's too bad that we'll lose him as well as the rest of the seniors this year."

DRIBBLING WITH STYLE!

If the team works hard, and they put a lot of time into the game, next year's Junior Varsity Basketball team should be pretty good," commented Freshman coach, Gary Minor. There were many good players on the Fresh team, but two especially stuck out. These two players were Mike Redhair and Titus Shack. The coaches for these teams were Mr. Gary Minor for the Freshman team, and Mr. Pat Derksen for the Junior Varsity team. JV coach Pat Derksen commented, "I'm pretty sure that we are going to have a good Varsity team. I believe that if the guys work hard and they concentrate on the game, there is no reason why we can't have a super Varsity winning season in the years of 1983-1984." The JV team wound up the season with a 13 win and 3 loss record, the winningest record in the city.

When you are playing soccer, you must use various parts of your body.

Even girls can be vicious when fighting over the ball.

There is never a dull moment while playing soccer.

Making a corner kick, you must have very strong legs.

The game must go on even in undesirable weather conditions.

Andrea Lindquist, senior, makes her move around an Amphl opponent.

Cheryl Rhodes blasts the soccer ball up the field to Amphl's goal.

The Canyon del Oro Soccer teams faced many difficult problems in their '82-'83 season, but still managed to perform admirably well on the pitch. Sickness and ineligibility plagued the boys teams. Having a complete starting line-up actually start was a rare occurrence. Additionally, both boys' and girls' teams were assigned new coaches. Loren Seng became the new Varsity Boys' coach. He had no experience as a coach for soccer, but he had been a coach for other sports. This year has really been a learning experience for him. He was fortunate to have great people to learn from. Outstanding players were David, "The Blaze" Bresemann, who earned the name after burning opponent after opponent with his incredible dribbling, John Kelliher, Grady Bean and Jon Dolgarro. Jim Truitt, last year's Varsity Boys' coach, moved to the position of Varsity Girls' coach. His team showed exceptional talent even though Andrea Lindquist and Janet Smith were the only senior members. The Girls' team was the only ones to beat the undefeated Amphi.

Canyon del Oro's sports program was almost unlimited. CDO's high school sports ranged from chess to football, from baseball to tennis, from basketball to golf, and from hiking to skiing. Many hard hours were put into the preparation of a sport. Most sports practiced upwards of 6 days a week when they were in competition. Junior/Senior P.E. introduced such other sports as hot-air ballooning, sailboating, snow skiing, scuba diving, and even hiking. Most Canyon del Oro students were involved in some kind of sport. There was football, volleyball, cross country, golf, wrestling, soccer, basketball, tennis, gymnastics, baseball, softball, swimming, and more! As one high school student stated, "If you were bored during high school, it was your own fault!"

The girls Varsity Basketball team had a great 1982-83 season. "The players are enthusiastic and very energetic," commented coach Dan Huff. All of the players agreed Mr. Huff was an excellent coach who really gave his all for the team. "I learned a lot of valuable things that will help me be a better player," explained one player. The overall outcome of the games was very favorable, and the team was really dunking it to the opponents. But Basketball was not an easy sport; it entailed many hours of strenuous practice and a lot of physical effort, plus a good eye for shooting. The girls Varsity basketball team had a very exciting and memorable experience in their 1982 and 83 season. Outstanding players for the team included Amy DeVries, Helena Row, and Janet Smith. "Basketball is really a fun sport," commented one member.

Basketball drills are an essential part of the basketball practice.

A budding basketball star goes in for the lay-up.

Tall, quick and lots of potential are what gave the Girls' Junior Varsity and Freshmen Basketball team a successful season, and enthusiasm, hard work and ability did its part also. "We have more strengths than weaknesses," said Syd Scanridge. "As my first year of coaching, I was proud to coach for Canyon del Oro." The fourteen girls on the team had the ability to be well-balanced and unified. This made them an outstanding team. The two most outstanding players considered by all as the best were Maria Camarata and Debbie Santiago. "Despite many long and hard hours of training and conditioning, the work seemed to have paid off," said one of the team members. The entire girls' basketball season was about eighteen weeks long. Fundraisers were held to raise money to buy special equipment, like banners and game-day shirts.

RUNNING FOR THE GOLD

- 1 Tim Brenden and Mark Koeman get ready to practice their pole vaulting.
- 2 Mike Schoephoerster throws his discus with all his strength to break his own distance record.
- 3 Exercises are important to track. This exercise is to help your hamstrings.
- 4 Several pole vaulters line up on the run to practice their jumping.
- 5 Coach Peltz and Coach Nagel look on as the track players do their exercises.
- 6 Dan Gale and Nick Kuehl show that track can be painful.
- 7 Ronald McDonald shows that discus throwers need a perfect form in order to achieve their distance.

Hurdles, sprints, relays, shot put, pole vault, long jump and high jump make up the running and field events for the boys' track team. But it's not the events that keep the sport exciting; it's the guys! All the events take a great deal of strength, both physically and mentally. Workouts are strenuous. If they are not working out in the weight room, they are practicing their running and field events. Long distance runner Eric Martineau said, "The harder you practice, the more endurance you build up, and the better you get." Track is not all running though. You learn running forms and also responsibility by showing up for practice everyday and being willing to work out hard. Mr. Truitt, Mr. Nagel and Mr. Ford coached boys' pole vault, sprinters and long jump. One senior member said, "Track is not an easy sport. You need to be fit to run, but in the end, you complete the season with the feeling of success."

Girls track at Canyon del Oro had a good 1982-'83 season. Jenise Martin, who threw shot put and discus, said, "I had a lot of fun this year. The competition was good, and the feeling of success was even better!" Although a lot of girls were returns from last season, many new girls tried out. Jim Peliz, was the girls' coach for long distance and hurdles, and Darrell Avila was the coach for shot put and discus. Some running events that are included in girls' track are 100 meter, 200 meter and 400 meter, along with sprints, half mile, one mile and two mile runs. The field events included are discus, shot put, long jump and high jump. The CDO runners are serious about what they do. But it is not all work, as one member on the team said, "After the season is over, you feel physically fit, and you have a feeling of accomplishment."

- 7 Brian Benedon practices on the rings to get ready for his next performance.

The 1982-83 boys and girls gymnastics teams had a terrific season. Both Coach Holmes and Coach Goedecke agreed that the team had a lot of strength and dedication. A thorough practice consisted of warm-ups, flexibility, basic routines, and building competitive routines produced by the 1982-83 boys and girls teams. The girls' gymnastics coach was Linda Holmes, and the boys' coach was Paul Goedecke. Each one of the coaches said the teams had a lot of ambition to practice the winning routines for which they practiced long and hard. The practices lasted for two to three hours a day. The coaches really enjoyed working with the gymnasts, and the gymnasts enjoyed working with the coaches. The skills and techniques improved the more they practiced. With the tremendous skills they have, they are a shoe-in for the divisionals and should win some awards. Outstanding gymnasts included Shannon Winckel, Donna Winman, Dan Fraker and Gary Kraft.

TENNIS IS OUR RACKET

- 1 Stephanie Lipscomb, sophomore, successfully returns her backhand back to her opponent.
- 2 Freshman player Craig Norris serves another powerful ace to win his match.
- 3 Brian Helming and Peter Prasseas, practicing their doubles, set up for their next meet.
- 4 Junior Craig Hufault leaps high to add more power to his serve.
- 5 Robyn Larson, freshman, returns her opponent's lob ball with unique form.
- 6 Brian Helming eyes his doubles partner's serve to make sure he isn't in the line of fire.
- 7 Elizabeth Mallin, freshman, follows out her serve to end another match.

The Canyon del Oro Girls' Tennis team started the 1982-83 season with a new coach, Mrs. Shirley Pinkerton. Pam Reeve, who coached the girls' tennis team during the 1981-82 season, took a maternity leave. It was Shirley Pinkerton's first year coaching. She was very enthusiastic about the Junior Varsity and Varsity team. "I was a counselor at CDO during 1981, and I really enjoyed working with the students." Mike Rowe coached the boys' Junior Varsity and Varsity tennis team this year. Gary Cohen, freshman, was the number one Varsity player. He played his matches without effort, and the other team members helped make the boys a winning team. Some of the boys' outstanding performances allowed them to go to state. They boys worked two to three hours every day practicing their skills and form to make a great defense against their opponents. One member of the boys' tennis team said, "Tennis is an exciting sport, we all had a great time practicing." Both girls' and boys' tennis teams learned sportsmanship as well as making a lot of new friends.

the Canyon del Oro Swim Team had a year to remember. Coach Pete Seidl and assistant coach Tom Bell both agreed that the harder the swimmers worked, the better they felt in the long run. "It really showed off when Steve King and Keith Ragsdale made State, and the girls relay team Kathy Kesti, Margaret Rain, Heather Beers and Janice Gottschall placed 9th in State. The competition was tough because we had top swimmers from all around the Tucson area and even Phoenix," recalled Coach Seidl. Most of the team members agreed that their best memory was against Salpointe. "The girls relay team really showed a lot of skill and athletic ability when swimming against Salpointe," said Coach Bell. The CDO relay team won by a close margin. Practice for swimming was held in the morning with Coach Bell and in the afternoon with both coaches. A lot of time was spent in the pool. "To be a good swimmer, you have to be dedicated enough to swim in water that is sometimes well below 60°. It can be pretty miserable at times, but it pays off in the end," stated Coach Seidl.

The 1982 Varsity Baseball Squad finished a very successful season at 18-7 overall. They accomplished such feats as winning the TUSD Tournament championship, finishing a strong second in the North League, and advancing to the semifinals in the playoffs. The 1983 Varsity Squad planned to pick up where they left off in '82. The team had 12 returning players, and head coach Roger Werbyo said, "We have a very experienced team. We are strong at virtually every position." The team had four proven pitchers and a strong infield and outfield to back them up. Offensively, the team had hard hitting and good team speed. Coach Werbyo said, "Winning State is one of our goals, but not our main goal. The team will learn to work hard and cooperate with each other as a team. Individuals will learn to challenge themselves and enjoy healthy competition while developing poise and confidence. Most of all, they'll develop life long friendships."

The Freshmen and Junior Varsity Teams enjoyed fine seasons last year and had a good time doing it. The competition for the Frosh and JV was much less demanding than that of Varsity. The Freshmen had a new coach last season, Coach Joel Winburn. The coach's goals for the season were to have fun playing and, at the same time, improve each and every man's playing skills. He also felt that the team succeeded, because every player played to his potential. The 1983 JV coach was Mr. Stan Penny. Having coached the freshmen team for the past two years, Mr. Penny was experienced at CDO. Coach Penny's main goal for the season was to develop the sophomores into strong players, so CDO would have a good varsity team in the years to come. He felt that the 1982 freshmen team did very well, and the quality should carry over to next season. Coach Penny believed that the whole team did very well, and the standouts included Todd Carriere, John Wasiefsky, and Jamie Ruffell.

YEARBOOK'S GONE COLOR!!

The yearbook staff worked hard to make this year book the most colorful yearbook ever published at CDO. Turn out for the class was great; this made the staff better equipped to handle the task. John Craig said, "A hard working staff can make or break you when you're trying to make the best book and we had that hard working staff." Mrs. Van Deusen was a big reason why the book turned out as well as it did. When she took over the class, she had her own set of goals; she wanted to win awards, but most of all, she wanted COLOR. Due to Mr. Johnson's volunteer help, the photography was greatly improved. Mrs. Van Deusen got her color, and the staff had the satisfaction of meeting and surpassing the goals set

RAISING MONEY IS A MUST

The CDO Student Government had many goals for the 82-83 school year. Their main goal was to start the Inter-Club Council. They wanted this council to promote unity among the clubs, to get more people working together, to get away from just fundraising, and to get more into helping students. They met this goal by helping to keep the Teacher-Advisory period, having a student recognition board to promote awareness, and trying to improve the cafeteria's food. Mr. Davis said, "Everyone did such a gret job They all worked equally, and I think they have done extremely well "

A DEBATABLE SEASON?

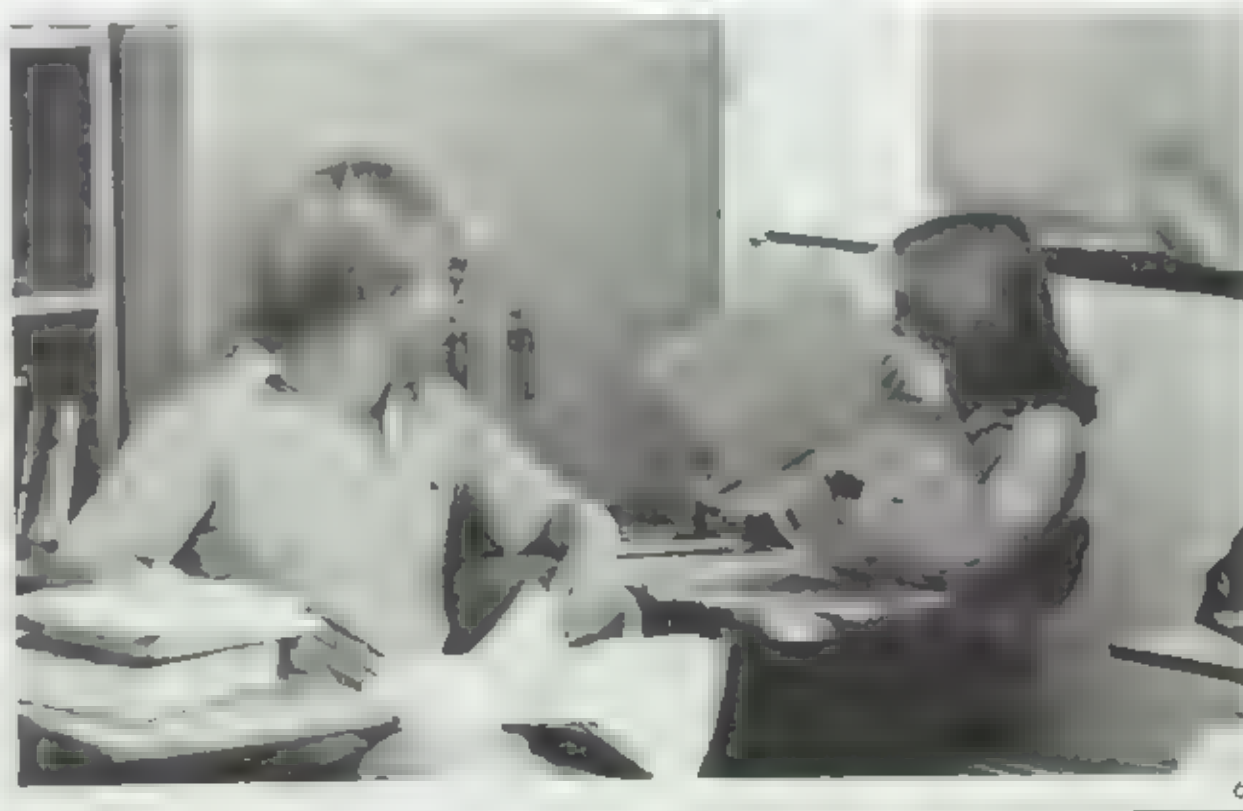

Mr. Seidl's Speech and Debate team fought incredible odds this season and came up on the winning end of most of their matchups. The team's main topic for the year was: United States Military Commitment to other Countries. They seemed to know their topic pretty well; an 85-90% winning record proved this. Speech and Debate is divided into two divisions: Varsity and Junior Varsity. For the Varsity, Mr. Seidl said that Sheila Maxwell and Lisa Bertalan are among the standouts. He said that the entire J.V. side was a standout. Mr. Seidl said that the '82 '83 team couldn't compare to others he has had in the past. "The best, without a doubt"

THE SOUND OF SILENCE

This year the Sign Language Club consisted of nine people of all different ages. Seth Dubry was the club's president and had been for all four of his Canyon Del Oro years. The goals of the club were to perform throughout the community for the deaf and to inform the hearing public of the problems facing the deaf. They also tried to raise enough money for T-shirts. They also wished to improve their skills in doing sign. The club met every Tuesday and Wednesday after school. They performed to music, and sometimes they had guest speakers. "The club was for anyone wanting to have fun and learn sign," said Ms. Gail Lefkowitz, the club's advisor.

1. Seth Dubry takes a small portion of a meeting to explain to Steven Shipman signs he's having problems with.
2. Lisa Pacholczyk and Gail Lefkowitz are prime examples that the art of signing can be fun and rewarding.
3. Gail Lefkowitz just takes a breather from a sign meeting just to sit back and enjoy the goings-ons of the group.

Francisco Oliveira came here from Brazil to spend his junior year at CDO. Francisco was originally assigned to another school, everybody told me that I should change it and just tell them and I would not guess they were right. Francisco enjoyed playing soccer but really missed the beach. He planned to finish high school and then go to a college.

Yasmin Bagwadia attended CDO this past year as a sophomore. She came here from England and she was here with her parents and sister. Yasmin said that school here was harder but there were more activities available. She said that she likes CDO because the people here were friendlier than where she came from. Yasmin's future plans were to become a teacher and work with younger children.

Michele Grieco, a senior at CDO from last year, said that he really enjoyed Tucson and CDO. He liked CDO because the campus was big and that gave him the chance to meet many people. The weather was one thing he really liked. Michele was really into sports like soccer, basketball, and tennis. His plans included finishing high school in Italy and helping other AFS students.

Frank Leibe, a senior at CDO last year, visited us from West Germany. (During his stay here, Frank lived with Kar May and his family.) Frank said that the students here had more activities available to them, whereas his school in West Germany was not. For study, Frank planned to finish high school in West Germany, go into the army for 18 months and then attend a university there.

Richard Gyback was a senior at CDO last year. Richard came from Mangrove, Sweden. He said that it was easy for him to feel relaxed around other students because they were all so friendly. Richard said that he enjoyed the fact that there were so many after school activities to get involved in. Richard's plans included going to the U of A and studying medicine.

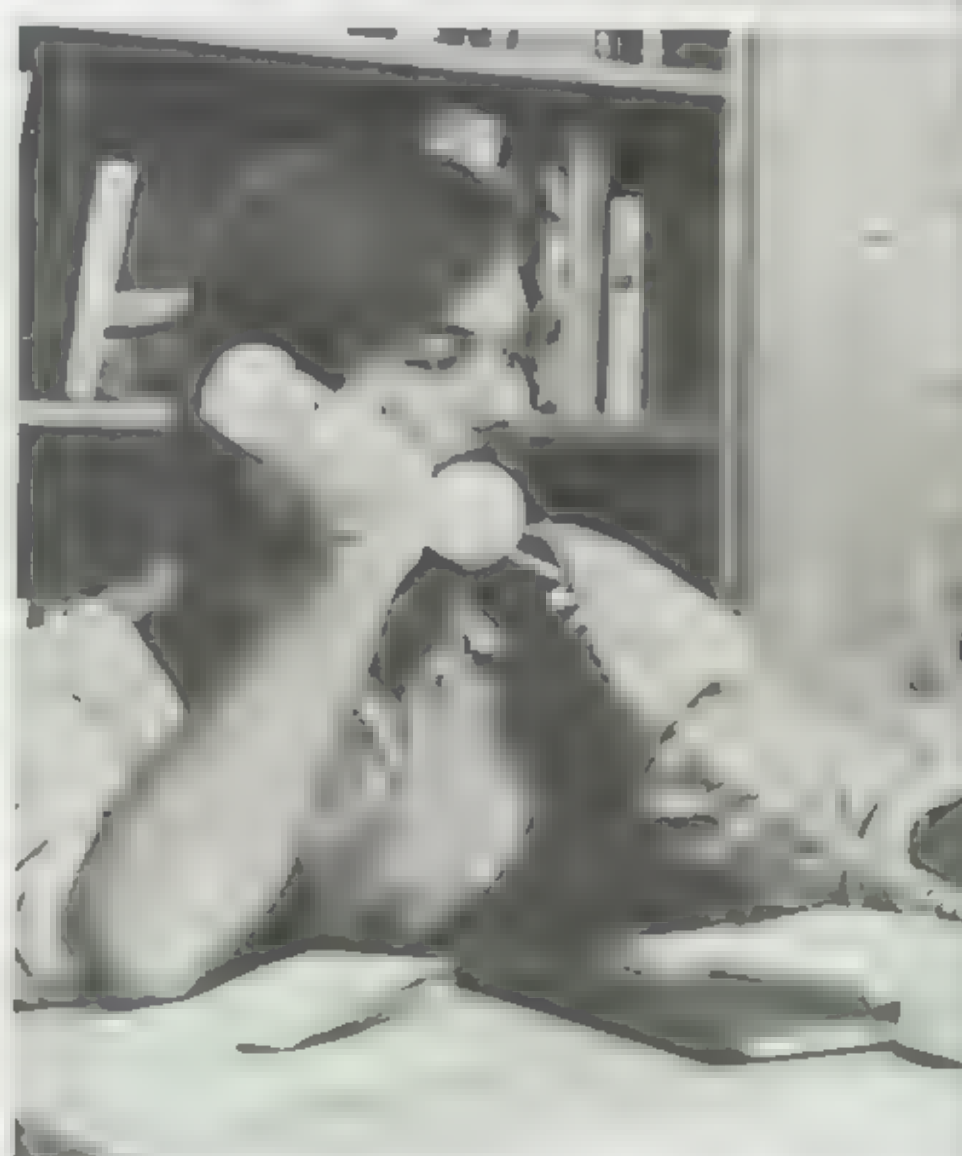

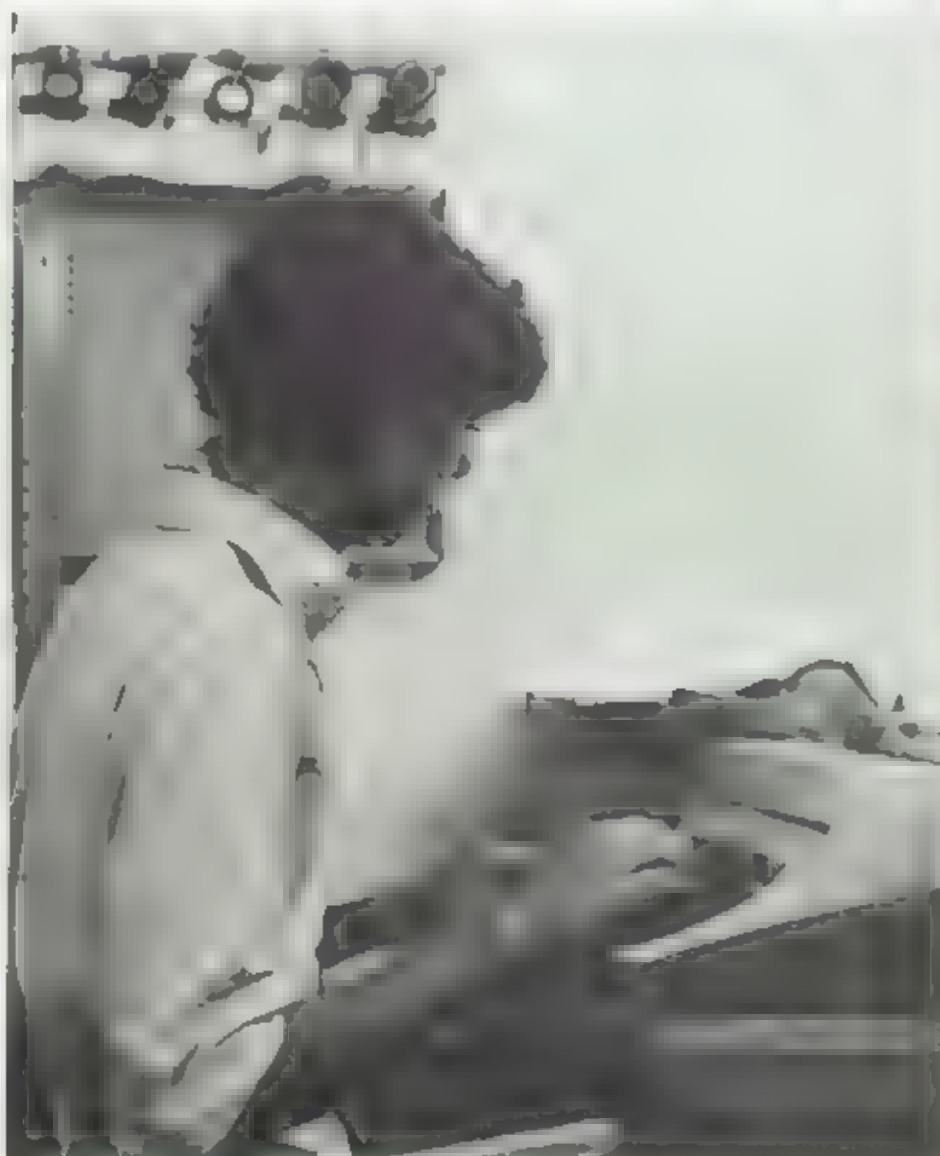

Gina Bagwadia was a freshman at CDO. She came here from England. Gina's parents were the ones who decided that CDO was the school that she should attend. Gina said that going to CDO was harder in a few subjects. Other than that, she enjoyed Tucson, CDO, the weather and, of course, the friends she made.

Pia Christensen was a senior this past year at CDO. She came here from Sweden. CDO was recommended by the family where she stayed. She really enjoyed CDO, saying, "It is so peaceful here and a person feels right at home." Pia really liked Tucson. She said, "It is a beautiful town and I would rather stay here than go back." Pia's future plans included becoming an airline stewardess and then owning her own travel agency.

PALANTIR BETTER THAN EVER

Palantir, the school newspaper made a few changes for the better during the 1982-1983 school year. Their feature articles, which were displayed in the center of the newspaper were changed from the "What holiday is it this month?" type article, to in depth news stories. More relevant editorials were written, and they tried to have more art and photos than ever before. To improve their work abilities they received a new light table which was paid for by the district. Mr. Benson, advisor, said, "We're working on writing skills and finding that deadlines can be met." KEY CLUB: OPENS GATEWAY TO SUCCESS

The Canyon del Oro Key Club, a community service organization, definitely contributed to a wide variety of fund-raising events for charities. "The basic goals of the club are helping others and having good time while doing it," stated Paola Villar, club president. The canned food drive, their first project of the year, was extremely successful, and was just one of the several activities they conducted. UNICEF was the principal charity that they sponsored. The busy Christmas season was concentrated on bringing joy to less fortunate people. They purchased a Christmas tree with decorations for Casa de los Niños and carolled at various nursing homes. These unselfish people provided happiness to many who are grateful.

HEROes OF THE FUTURE

The Home Economics Related Occupations, or HERO Club certainly kept busy during the year with various community service projects, conferences where they learned leadership qualifications, and several fundraisers. "The purpose of HERO is to give students the experience of being an effective employee by developing civic responsibility," commented Mrs. Schmalzel, the club advisor. The Haunted House for the March of Dimes and Cerebral Palsy Telethon were just a few of the public services they participated in. They also conducted activities for the elderly at Desert Life and held clean-ups for Mt. Lemmon and Sabino Canyon. Mrs. Schmalzel believes, "Belonging to a cooperative education class is one of the most valuable experiences a student could have."

REACH FOR THE STARS

The Canyon Del Oro R.E.A.C.H. program was for the intellectually-gifted students. R.E.A.C.H. stands for "Realizing Excellence Through Academic and Creative Help." To be in R.E.A.C.H., you must have scored at least 97% on the California Achievement Test or a score of 132 or higher on the Otis-Lennon School Ability Test. The members received many opportunities through R.E.A.C.H. They were able to attend seminars, to be in independent study classes, community internship programs and in advance placement classes. The program was for students in grades 9-12. Once you were in the program you were in it for all your high school years. One member said, "It opens new doors and makes you feel very special."

F.B.L.A. LEADERS OF THE FUTURE

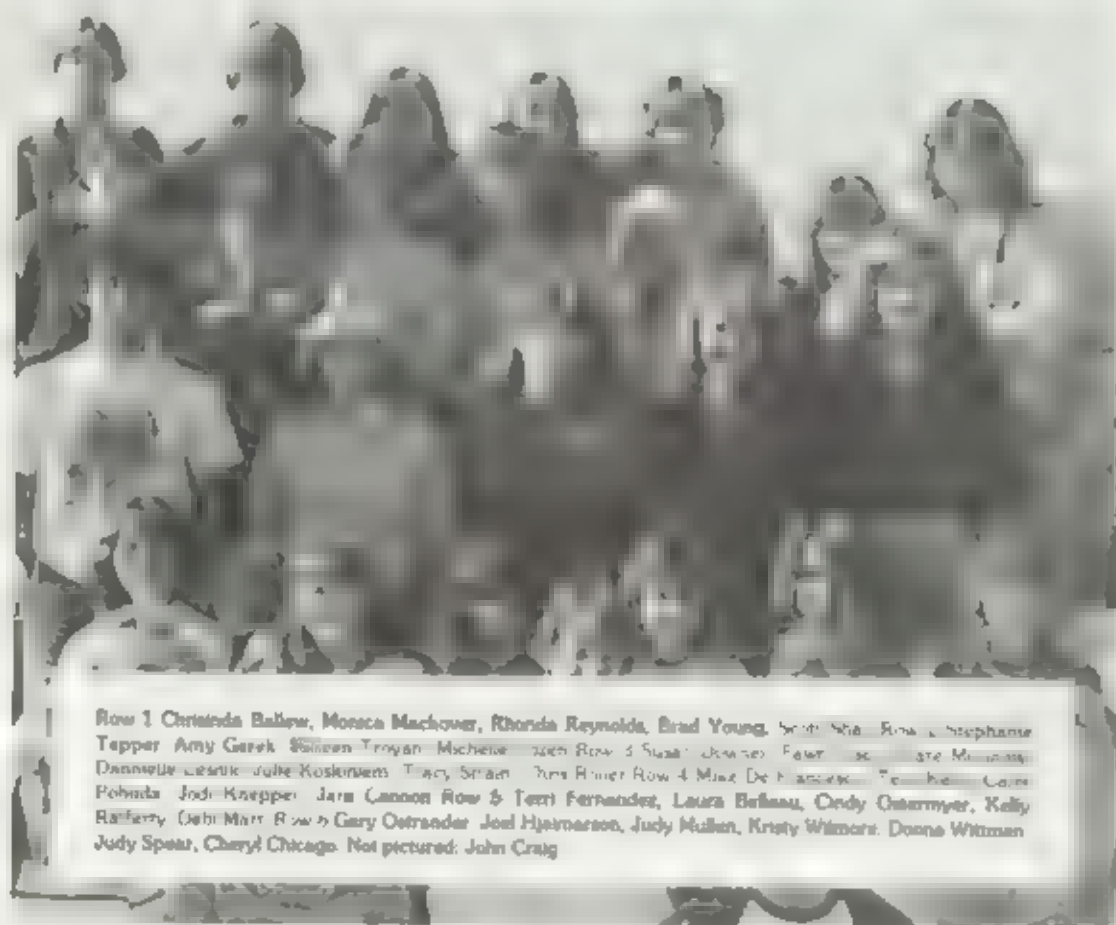

During the 1982-83 school year, the Future Business Leaders of America's goal was to accomplish "a better outlook on our self-image and how to work with others. Everyone has worked towards their common future goals, and, because of this, we have had a more cohesive group this past year," said Ms. Abelkop, FBIA sponsor. "During the year we went to a number of conferences where we learned more about how to accomplish our goals." CDO students competed with other FBIA students throughout the state at those conferences. Students competed in various categories related to pursuing careers in business.

DECA'S CONCERN: HELPING OTHERS!

If your goal or experience is wanting to help yourself and others in all kinds of ways, then the Distributive Educational Club of America (DECA) was just for you. During the 1982-1983 school year, every DECA member had a positive concern for helping one another; to achieve this, they gave a Thanksgiving dinner to a family that could not afford it. They gave a party for the mentally disturbed students at Rillito School, so they would feel that they were interacting with normal people. They sold flowers for Homecoming. To prove their abilities, they competed in city, state, and regional-wide conferences. This co-curricular club offered the experience of working in both the classroom and on the job. The requirement to achieve this goal was to be enrolled in Merchandising or Marketing classes. Barbara Greenway was a teacher/coordinator for the program. She said, "I'm proud to say that my students have a positive concern, and wherever we go, they are looked at as well-rounded students."

PLAYING IN THE MUD

The Canyon del Oro Clay Club was a club that could further your interest in ceramics. "Being able to work after school gave my students more time to work on their projects," said Mr. Wujcik, sponsor. "To join the club, you don't have to be in a class," stated president Robin Whitmore. "We have kids and even teachers coming in after school to work on clay projects." In addition to working after school, the members had field trips to dig their clay, and they had their own primitive firing. The club also sponsored The Oro Valley Arts Festival. Robin Whitmore said, "I guess our goals for the Clay Club was sharing our art form with others."

A MOVE IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION

Canyon del Oro's Chess Club team captain John Kelliher and vice-president Tom Millett said, "This year has been a good year; we are sure that we will make the Tucson Invitational." Although the Chess Club only had one match per month, the club members spent a lot of the extra time competing with the other team members for practice. "Anyone can join," stated one club member, "even if you don't know how to play." The CDO Chess Team competed with other Tucson-area schools as well as with schools from different parts of the state. The sponsor, Mr. Cortez, stated, "We started the season competing with some tough rivals, and we did a pretty fair job."

FROM AROUND THE WORLD

The basic goal of the AFS Club was to help out a foreign student financially and to find a host that would treat that student like a member of the family. Nadine Qashu, club president, said, "Club members raise money to help finance foreign students, so they can come to CDO and enjoy the intercultural exchange." The CDO AFS Club made it possible for only one student to visit during the 1983-'83 school year. His name was Michele Grieco, who came from Lacena, Italy. Sponsor Mrs. Schellie and co-sponsor Mrs. Pope Rolewski chaired the program. Corky Schellie commented, "Having the opportunity to learn about other cultures from CDO's foreign exchange students is a very enriching experience."

The last part of the junior year is a time of change. When one became a junior, more responsibilities were earned. It was a time to start thinking about the future, college careers and an overall outlook on life. Many students held their first jobs or got their first cars during their junior year. The class of '84 was no different. They went through it all. From parties in the fall to the Junior/Senior Prom in April, juniors did it all in style! Even though the class competitions did not go as well as anticipated for the junior class, they still showed a lot of spirit and involvement in all school activities.

ALREADY ENITE

EQUATIONS ADD UP TO GREAT YEAR

The Science Department continued to grow this year and proved once again that they are among the finest in the city. Mr. Metz had a few things to say about the department. The basic philosophy of the science department is as always, "to teach the basic concepts of science." Mr. Metz explained that the popularity of the department is due to the recently installed additions: the new electronic black board, a chalkboard-like piece of equipment that transmits messages from one room to another. The other addition is O-period. He thinks that we could use some more S.M. classes and maybe some advanced classes, but, according to him, "Science is well equipped and very organized." Mr. Metz feels that budget cuts will hurt the department but not enough to affect any major plans.

2. Dana McGee and Dalene Fugitt work desperately hard on a biology worksheet in Mr. Combs' class.
3. Junior Liz Peterson studies diligently for her earth science exam in Mr. Massie's third hour class.
4. Freshman Eric Rice studies for an algebra test during his second hour physical science class.
5. Mrs. Marben-Wolpe's third hour chemistry class discovers that chemistry can actually be fun.
6. Freshman Katrina Thomas tries her luck at a science equation which deals with mass and volume.

PHYS ED. PROMOTES SKILLS

During the 1982-83 school year, the P E. department stressed better attitude toward competition, endurance, and strengthening of students' abilities in certain areas. Last year as every year, students participated in the nation-wide President's Physical Fitness Tests. These tests consisted of: standing long jump, sit-ups, flex arm-hang for girls and pull-ups for guys. The running tests included: 50 yard dash, and the 600 yard dash. Freshmen participated in beginning swimming and lifesaving skills. Sophomores played water polo, and juniors and seniors did snorkeling, scuba diving and sailing. "This year's water activities have been a great success," commented Ms. Leffler, head of the P E. department.

$A^2+B^2=C^2$ MEANS TROUBLE!

Mr. John Ruiz, head of Canyon del Oro's math department, made no bones about the importance of math for high school students. "Math, is the most important subject needed to go to any college," he stated without a doubt, citing the college requirements for everything from astronomy to sociology which required a minimum of second year algebra, a course Mr. Ruiz taught along with calculus. In connection with Governor Babbitt's intention of providing tougher mandatory math requirements for college entrance, Mr. Ruiz was happy to state that Canyon del Oro's students were improving on their SAT tests in math and that awareness of the necessity for higher math courses drew more and more students to his calculus class. To graduate from C.D.O., a student was required to have at least one year of math, but, according to Mr. Ruiz, "To get a better education, a student needs four years of math."

INDUSTRIAL ARTS BUILDS FUTURE

The Industrial Arts Department was one of the quieter departments on campus during the '82 '83 school year. "The Auto I classes saw the introduction of a small engine section, so the students could get a better understanding of how an engine works," stated Auto I teacher, Mr. Karner. In Auto II, students learned more about how a car functions, and they were able to work on their own cars. The Auto Departments' goals were to develop the awareness of the outlook and opportunities in the auto field, to instill proper safety and use of tools and to develop basic knowledge in the field. Besides auto classes, the Industrial Arts Department included Woods, Metals, Industrial Crafts and Architecture classes.

The Home Economics Department at Canyon del Oro definitely gained recognition and support for its success with the building of a new room for the Child Development class. In this room the students held a six-week nursery school in which they observed children and acquired child care experience. Other classes offered included Foods and Nutrition, Clothing, Housing and Interior Design, Consumer Education, and Senior Survival. Home Ec. department chairman Mrs. Schmalzel's goal for the future is to increase courses offered so the broad range of home economics will be covered. One class she intends to add is Independent Living which would teach students the practical skills of everyday life. Mrs. Schmalzel also feels that there should be more emphasis on home economics since it is training and experience for basic needs in life that everyone should have.

HISTORY'S OUT OF THE PAST

As the years progress further into the future at Canyon del Oro High School, one department that really did not change was the History Department. During the junior and senior year at C.D.O., every student was required to take both history and government courses. Some of the history courses offered were military history and SW history. Several of the government classes were presidents and political parties, role of government, courts and constitutions, just to name a few. Very few students will ever forget Mr Rowe's role of government because of the many sleepless nights or sleepless weeks, in some cases, spent studying or worrying about tests in his class

SPEAKING WITH A FORKED TONGUE

The foreign language classes did more than just learn another language. The Spanish and French advanced classes took a few field trips. They went to The Tucson Museum of Modern Art in the fall and the U of A Art Museum in the spring. The German classes went to Phoenix for a luncheon at a German restaurant in the fall. Many foreign films were shown to all the language classes throughout the year. "Cyrano de Bergerac", and "El Cid" were among the many films shown. Many foreign exchange students visited Canyon del Oro during the 1982-1983 school year, among these were Frank Liebe, Germany; Michele Grieco, Italy; and Vasin and Gina Bagwadia, England. Many CDO students also traveled to European countries; such as France, Germany, Italy, and England

A BRIGHT FUTURE FOR ENGLISH

As the year progressed further into the future, the learning skills for English became more advanced. The English Department ordered two word processors. A word processor can not only aid a student in composition writing, but can also aid a teacher in making up a test. Kris Bailey, English Department Head, said, "Many of the teachers are looking forward to learning how to use and take advantage of our word processors." Although the English Department only had two word processors in the 1982-'83 school year, the department planned to order many more in the future years. English was an important tool during high school. The English teachers at CDO were dedicated and eager to teach their students the importance of English skills.

CDO PLAYERS ADD SPICE

The Canyon Players added a fresh new look to the drama department in the 1982-'83 school year. They performed mime shows and small productions all over town. The intermediate drama classes entertained Canyon del Oro audiences throughout the year. Some of those plays included: "The Brick and the Rose" and "The Twelve Angry Jurors." Both of these plays were acted out and directed with excellence. Ms. Carolyn Allred, drama teacher, stated, "I will really miss this group of seniors. They are my first four-year class. They are a terrific group, and I have thoroughly enjoyed having them. They'll always be special to me." The Canyon Players established a new level of tradition at CDO this past year.

SINGING THEIR WAY TO THE TOP

"Singing and performing for others is great fun and a good experience," commented Canyon Singer Joellyn Roof. The Canyon del Oro vocal groups included the Mixed Chorus, Advanced Girls Ensemble, Concert Choir, and Canyon Singers. The most exclusive choral group were the Canyon Singers who must also have been a member of Concert Choir to audition. They entertained various clubs, businesses, and community organizations with primarily pop music. The choral groups participated in several music competitions such as Mountain State Music Festival at A S U, where they received a rating which made their diligent practicing and efforts worthwhile. Their activities included a fall concert and the annual Christmas Concert at The San Xavier Mission.

NOT JUST A JOB BUT AN ADVENTURE

During the 1982-83 school year, quite a few students were enrolled in a business-related course. These students felt the teaching methods used in typing shorthand, exploratory business, accounting, and marketing made for a worthwhile experience. "Typing helps me in a lot of my other classes, as well as at home, too," commented one business student. Many courses were designed for students to work at their own pace. This was a plus for many students who could not fit desired business classes in their schedules. Other courses could be taken on an independent study basis.

THE BEAT GOES ON . . .

The Canyon Del Oro Band had a new teacher, Director Mr. Rawdin, and had a very good year. Mr. Rawdin's goals were very high, and the band members as well as Mr. Rawdin wanted to see things done the right way. They marched in the Band Day at the University of Arizona and in other parades throughout Tucson, and they got excellent ratings in every event they were in. They won a nice banner at Band Day and a plaque in the state School Festival. Mr. Rawdin said, "They were always prepared for every performance." The Jazz Band also had numerous performances and did well in most of them. Mr. Rawdin also expected to do well in the concert season. Mr. Rawdin started a new beginning guitar class which had a lot of response and good participation. Mr. Rawdin stated, "I expect great things from this guitar class."

TALENT IN THE MAKING

Canyon del Oro offered many exciting art classes during the 1982-'83 school year. Mrs. Wujcik, the instructor for the classes stated, "Every year, I change the projects in the classes. That way, a student who's been in my class before will have a chance to experience new projects and different techniques." Some projects that the art classes did were making masks out of paper mache or working on the pottery wheel. In Studio Art, the students experienced different water color techniques; they also designed their own record album or book cover. Students in all art classes had a chance to hear guest speakers. As one student stated, "I enjoy art. It is a fun and rewarding class."

THE HEART OF IT ALL

Major changes took place in the administration at Canyon del Oro. A new attendance policy was initiated during the '82-'83 school year. Another change was the moving of Administration West to the newly expanded Administration East Building. Mr. Evers, assistant principal, and Mr. Kemmeries, principal, were both in their second year as administrators. The secretaries were a valuable asset to our campus, without these people, CDO would have come to a full stop. VIPs at CDO included Bill Kemmeries, Richard Evers, Clifford Haugh, John Davis, Larry Keenan, Marge Leach, Sue Nelson, Joan Thompson, and many, many others.

Homecoming, a featured event in Dorado has been by many years, held in its own right. It is a time when all the school spirit is at its peak. Although the game was not won, the alumni, teachers and students were a fine example of the pride of the true Dorado. Much hard work went in to that night to make it the best ever; banners, flowers and courses the float riders. Government spent many long hours constructing the float which were well worth the effort especially on the seniors, who took first place with their medieval float. The theme "Time periods" consisted of floats from the stone age, the 50's and also the future. During halftime, the ceremonies of announcing the attendants and the crowning of the new king and queen by the former royalty, Roxanna McIntosh and Craig Yeeling made the 1952-53 homecoming a special night to be remembered for many years to come.

MAKING ROOM FOR EXPANSION

Mrs. Corky Schellie, head librarian, said, "The new expansion for the library is for the enlargement of the seating, and the reference desk." Mrs. Schellie quoted, "We also need room for the carols, so that more people can study quietly." The library will have more room for the audio visual and the micro computer room. The book fair, held each year to raise money to buy paperbacks, was very successful. Many students were making use of the library's computers during their breaks and lunch periods as well as using it for study and research. Mrs. Schellie was pleased with the number of students using the library this past year.

1 Mrs. Harris, head of the library, has many busy days such as this one.

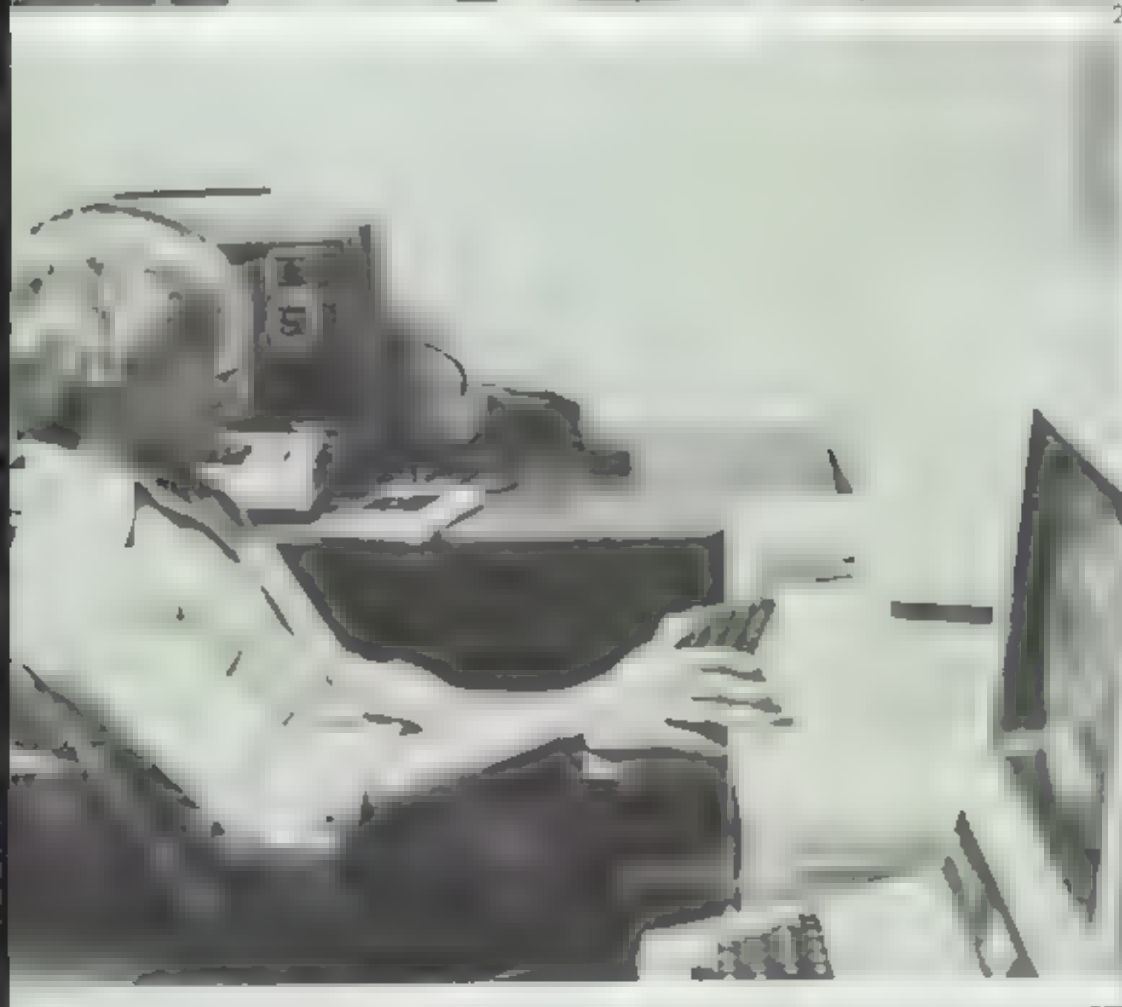

2 Sophomore David Wilcox is a library aid and is surprisingly relaxed during his duty.

3 Junior Keith Satzma is an aid who helps out by filing new cards in the cataloging.

4 Freshman Matt Cartmel is caught by the eye of the camera in the computer room.

BOOKSTORE STACKS UP

Registration procedures were quite a bit different for the '82-'83 school year from past years. Students were all given a specific day and time to register for classes, according to their grade. The Bookstore, previously located in the Library classroom during registration, was moved back into the M.P.R. This change made the lines somewhat smaller than they were in the past. Besides keeping accounts of school funds and clubs, the Bookstore also kept track of fees, lockers and new and used books. The Bookstore was not only a place to buy and sell books, it was also a good place to get discounts on school plays and major sporting events during the school year. "The Bookstore always had change for the snack machines," commented freshman Gary Walbert

BEHIND THE SCENES

The Data Processing Department at Canyon del Oro High School was a very vital part of the administration. The department was totally staffed by students, and operated under the careful guidance of Mrs. Sue Nelson, Data Processing Coordinator. Mrs. Nelson commented, "I am so proud that this department, which is run by students, met the challenges of the need for accuracy and deadlines to be met. We produce the cards for registration, grade reporting, attendance, all student records including schedules, report cards, address labels, grade point averages, and class ranks. The students in the department have more than met the requirements for the class." A new addition to the machines in the center was a new IBM 129 keypunch.

HELPING UNDERSTAND EDUCATION

The Amphitheater Board of Education were very busy with the building projects at Canyon del Oro during the '82-'83 school year. C.D.O. received a new bookstore and a baseball snack bar. C.D.O. also acquired a new building in the center of the school for technology. The board was also approving funds so that C.D.O. could get its counseling and guidance offices remodeled and an addition to the administration building. The school board worked approximately ten hours each week planning Canyon's expansion projects. The board's goals were to establish math competency, continue reading competency, and to develop computer literacy. However, the most important goal was to maintain quality education and counseling aspects of career guidance. The members were all volunteers and did not get paid a single dime. "This was certainly an enjoyable and rewarding field," stated board member, Mrs. Patti Perzan.

As "Junior Co-Editor" of the 1982-83 Anos de Oro Yearbook I would like to thank the following people:

Jim Walbert, my "Senior Co-Editor" for his time, dedication and patience, especially with me.

Mrs. Van Deusen, Advisor, for her patience with everyone and her ability to work well under pressure.

Mr. Gene Johnson, Photographic Advisor, for all of his time, money and energy spent to see that the photographic department of the yearbook ran well.

Steve Agan, Photography Editor, for his time, organization, and overall surprising calmness!

Mike De Francesco, Asst. Photographic Editor, for all of his great photographic contributions.

Cindy Allison, Layout Editor, for all of her help in teaching the staffers, and especially her help to me.

Kay Breeckvelt, Copy Editor, for all of her help teaching the staffers.

Craig Buckels, Photographer, for getting out of 1st period class to take those last minute pictures before those deadlines.

Julie Currens, Photographer, for all of her photographic contributions.

Millie Heintz, Staffer, for all of her help on some of those difficult layouts and for making us better drivers, too.

Mr. Haugh, Asst. principal, for his help with the budget.

Colleen Holladay, Staffer, for doing the most assignments and copies in a very short time.

Justine Hirschi, Staffer, for her high spirits, I mean high spirits, and lots of ads.

Lise Jones, Index Manager, for doing the index in a very unique way—on a computer!

Marge Leach, Chief Clerk, for all of her patience with me, lots of work orders and more . . . Thanks!

Michelle Lozen, Staffer, for staying real late and completing those assignments by those who were lazy.

Rhonda Reynolds, Staffer, for helping me those many times I needed her and for the coke on my good pants.

Walter (Waldo) Sickel, Staffer, for completing all of those assignments that were given to him FAST.

Doreen Troyan, Staffer, for staying after school soooo late to finish others' assignments.

Gary Walbert, Staffer, for being in room 810 'till the crack of dawn doing his copies.

Peter Winters, Staffer, for running errands for me to the snack bar, office and more. Also, for his good layouts.

John Worden, Photographer/Staffer, for doing a superb job in both! Also, for his BIG GULPS!

and last but not least, Carol Killian, Staffer, for the CRASH and other ingenious things. (why are you at the end?)

Your editor and mine,
John Craig

As Senior Co-Editor of the 1982-83 Anos de Oro Yearbook I would like to thank the following people:

John Craig, Junior Co-Editor, for his invaluable help the past three years and especially for making this 1983 yearbook a success.

Mrs. VanDeusen, Advisor, for her patience in putting up with the entire yearbook staff and for her wonderful support all year long.

Mr. Gene Johnson, Photography Advisor, for all his expertise in photography in making this year's photography department the best ever.

Key Braeckvelt, Copy Editor, for all the hours she spend proofing and filling in where needed.

Craig Buckels, Photographer, for having a good "eye" for news.

Julie Currens, Photographer, the only girl on the photography staff, for doing a great job.

Mike De Francesco, Assistant Photo Editor, for all his work in developing, printing, rolling film, and filling in where needed.

Lisa Jones, Index, for computing the time-consuming index.

Michelle Lozen, Staffer, for always being there when she was needed.

Rhonda Reynolds, Staffer, for her liveliness, when she worked.

Peter Winters, Staffer, for working well under pressure.

Walter Sickel, Staffer, for completing all the "loose ends".

Carol Killien, Staffer, for having the "sweetest tooth" in yearbook.

Eric Martineau, Photographer, for his help in making this year's book special.

Doreen Troyan, Staffer and Photographer, for putting in a 8-hour shift in a 6-hour day.

John Worden, Photographer, for coordinating layout and photography.

Gary Walbert, Staffer, for a lot of hard work and just getting through his first year on the yearbook staff.

and lastly, Mille Heintz, Justine Hirschi, and Colleen Holladay, "The Three Musketeers", for making us all glad we are graduating.

Sincerely yours, Jim Walbert, Senior Co-Editor

If you think you are beaten, you are,
If you think that you dare not, you don't
If you'd like to win but you think you can't,
It's almost certain you won't.

If you think you'll lose, you've lost,
For out in the world you'll find Success begins with a fellow's will
It's all in the state of mind.

If you think you are out-classed, you are;
You've got to think high to rise;
You've got to be sure of yourself before
You can ever win a prize.

Life's battles don't always go
To the stronger or faster man;
But sooner or later the man who wins
Is the man who thinks he can.

CHRIS- THIS HAS BEEN LIKE SOME YEAR WITH SOCCER, AND THE SCAVENGER
HUNT AND ~~AND~~ ALL. YOU'RE AN ALL AROUND NEETOR TYPE OF FELLOW AND I SERIOUSLY THINK WE NEED TO DO MASSIVE BROWNIES OVER THE SUMMER. SEE YOU THEN.

BOOTS M'COLMICK
~~BOOTS~~

Hope you make fun of me. Hope you make the summer, but don't take
So long. Jeff H.

You do like to make
Party over the summer!
a pleasant mood! I see you not in my position
a though you do like to make
Party over the summer!

CHRIS - It's been interesting knowing you.
It was cool going on the scavenger with you even though we got busted. Call me up some time (742-2536-247-
